Ohio, 4, The evenness of the vibration of the string. However good a string may be, it will preduce us tosse in it vibrates, and the evener the vibration the better the tost. To vibrate scenic, the string should have but two distinct toos, directly to and fin. The immore strikes on the un-sife, less disgram H. I and the first motion of the string is recede from the hument. In the H. D. A Cu, plane the section of the string is a string point of the string in a string of the section of the string is united by the section of the string in the section of the string is to return in a stringer direct has to a string point, and then, if it is threaten a thousand times, i motion is up, down—or, down—or in factors. The great impth of times.

The strongth of string.

The great impth of time which the instrument remains in face.

That the public may see and judge for thomselves whether he do to assessment be true, I publish a diagram of the old and do only in of planes, or nather the old forget styles which rejects if modern improvements, and the Hallet, Baylis & Co.'s style illustrations the districts that we applying in an age of sea point of and blancome but off fogics will deep that wice two qual for and that 100 flot, weigh vivice as much as fifty I will illustrate the philosophy of the two kinds of lastru-ents, and leave the reader to draw his own conclusions. cod up, instead of its rentroing in a direct line, it deviates from the method of the plant; close of crey other make in the proper course by being perceptibly drawn towards the continuous of streing them those of crey other make in the course sized cose.

The truth of this statement may be seen at a glance, as nearly its entire length of a streight stating can be used for vitation; two diagrams while those that are bent, necessarily have the rest or bridge prin method at a great distance from the end of the right prince of the major would be so great the string would say to the major would be so great the string would and before it could be drawn up within an octave of concerning the interior, the reserving the plant; close the angle would be at great method as a great the string would and before it could be drawn up within an octave of concerning the interior, the reserving the last the concerning the interior, the reserving the last the concerning the interior, the reserving the last the concerning the interior, the reserving the concerning to the concerning to the concerning the interior, the reserving the concerning the interior, the reserving the concerning the interior.
